

R. L. BATTE, JR. IN RACE FOR SHERIFF OF MILAM

WELL KNOWN CAMERON MAN ASKS ELECTION TO THIS OFFICE

R. L. Batte, Jr., native of Cameron and well known over the county, is a candidate for sheriff of Milam county subject to action of the Democratic primary election on July 28, 1928.

The announcement that Mr. Batte would be a candidate for the office of sheriff was made in Cameron this week while he was here on business from his home in Thorndale. However, it became known several weeks ago that he was contemplating the race and had been urged by a number of his friends to ask for this office.

Mr. Batte is the son of R. L. Batte, Sr., of Cameron, was born and reared in this city and is well known over Milam county as well as in other sections of the state. At present Mr. Batte is in charge of the Batte industries at Thorndale which include cotton gins and oil mill, having taken charge there in 1927.

Mr. Batte declares he wants to serve the people for two years in this office and if they are not satisfied with the service he gives he will retire. He declares for rotation in office and asks for the support of the electorate on the promise that he will give them the best of service.

Mr. Batte has had considerable experience as a peace officer, having served here as assistant marshal and law enforcement officer and feels that he is well qualified for the office of sheriff of the county.

Mr. Batte is a young man but has held a number of positions of responsibility.

He expects to make an active campaign for the office of sheriff, although for the present he will be engaged with his duties at Thorndale, but later in the season he will go before the people for an active campaign.

His friends over the county are asked to become active in his behalf and anything they may do for him will be greatly appreciated.

LILIAN ATKINSON IS CANDIDATE RE-ELECTION

POPULAR AND EFFICIENT COUNTY CLERK ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY

Miss Lilian Atkinson, county clerk, is a candidate for re-election to that office subject to action of the Democratic primary election on July 28, 1928.

The announcement of Miss Atkinson for re-election will be received with interest by her friends over the county and they will become active in support of her candidacy. Miss Atkinson is serving her second term in this office, having been elected in 1924 with a large majority.

Miss Atkinson asks for re-election to this office on the record she has made in this office. In accordance with her pledge to the people she has administered the affairs of this office in the most economical manner possible and in carrying out the principles of economy and efficiency she promised she has kept her pledge to the electorate.

When she came into this office in 1924 she instituted a number of innovations of service, rearranged the details of the work, selected for her assistants the most efficient people she could find and began her work. Her friends point out that this record has not been duplicated in this office, as she has at all times been attentive to every detail with the view of giving service.

Miss Atkinson is by training and experience well qualified for this place and asks the support of the voters of Milam county on the record she has made.

At this time Miss Atkinson will not be able to make as active canvas as she would like, but later in the month she hopes to become active in the campaign for her re-election.

She will make an active campaign and will make an effort to see and talk to each and every voter in the county, however she asks that if she cannot see each and everyone that their support is earnestly solicited.

Anything her friends may do in her behalf will be greatly appreciated and she asks the voters to consider her record and to support her for this office.

PUSSYFOOT JOHNSON TO DELIVER LECTURE

MAJOR F. B. EBBERT OF LOS ANGELES ALSO ON PROGRAM HERE

"Pussyfoot" Johnson, noted speaker and world temperance leader will speak at the Methodist church Thursday evening February 23, 1928 at 7:30 o'clock. His subject will be "As the Orient Sees America."

With the noted leader will be Major Ebbert of Los Angeles.

The circular says the gathering will be a community mass meeting. With Mr. Johnson will be Major F. B. Ebbert, a prohibition lecturer. He will speak on the "Unfinished Battle."

Johnson is just back from a tour of Europe. Major Ebbert lives in Los Angeles.

The meeting is one of hundreds now being held over America. The campaign against Al Smith is under way. Prohibition forces are opposed to Al Smith or any other wet either of the big parties attempts to nominate.

Regarding Mr. Johnson the circular says the following:

This renowned "Citizen of the World" has just returned from a six month's tour of Europe. At every meeting he was greeted by large crowds. The wets heckled him. The dries shouted themselves hoarse in his honor. Back in America, with a wonderful story of the growing for prohibition in the European countries.

Last year he toured India, in that great empire in a period of six weeks, traveled 7,000 miles, making 200 addresses, which were listened to by an aggregate of 1,500,000 people. Whole front pages of daily newspapers were devoted to him and his speeches. You are invited, not only to hear his wonderful story but also to shake his hand and bid him God-speed.

Johnson first became known as "Pussyfoot" when, as Chief Officer in the Indian service, under the Roosevelt and Taft administrations, he personally arrested hundreds of outlaws, who had defied arrest for years, and put thousands of them behind penitentiary bars.

As an author, his several books in the interest of reform have had wide circulation.

As a delegate of the World League Against Alcoholism in London he lost an eye through mob violence, and because of his sportsmanlike attitude toward his misfortune, he won over completely the British public. Throughout the whole world "Pussyfoot" is damned by wets and idolized by dries. Those who hear and shake hands with "Pussyfoot" will ever look back upon it as one of the events of their lives.

L. B. FIKES, TREASURER CANDIDATE RE-ELECTION

ASKS RE-ELECTION BASED ON RECORD AND KEEPING OF PLEDGES TO PEOPLE

L. B. Fikes, county treasurer and popular official, is a candidate for re-election to the office he now holds subject to the Democratic Primary election on July 28, 1928.

The announcement that he will be a candidate to succeed himself in this office will be received with interest by his friends over Milam County and already Mr. Fikes declares he has received the encouragement of many in his race for re-election.

Mr. Fikes asks for re-election based on the record he has made in this office as treasurer for the money of the people. He has handled the various funds of the county in an acceptable manner, and with economy in the administration of the affairs of this office.

When he took office he promised the people he would administer the affairs of the office in the most economical way possible and in this he has succeeded and on the basis of his record he asks his friends over Milam County to give him their vote and support for re-election.

Mr. Fikes is a native of Milam County and has a large acquaintance and needs no introduction. On account of his condition he cannot make as active campaign as he would prefer. Mr. Fikes has been a cripple for a number of years but is able to walk with crutches.

In every campaign he has engaged in since his election to this office in 1924 he has polled a large vote and is popular with the people.

Mr. Fikes asks his friends over the

KETONEN VS. KOLLN FEATURE MAT CARD

CANADIAN CHAMPION TO CONTEST FOR AMERICAN HONORS HERE

What is said to be the outstanding match of the year will be the meeting here on Tuesday night, February 21 between Waino Ketonen and Henry Kolln, champion of Canada.

Kolln who is in the south for the winter is making his home in Taylor, the old home of Pet Brown and has an engagement there on Friday night of this week with one of Brown's old trainers.

Ketonen is the recognized American champion and Cameron fans are fortunate indeed that such men as these are making southern points this year.

It is interesting to read the Canadian newspaper clippings of Kolln. He won the championship of Canada in the middleweight division on June 14, 1923 at Fort Williams in Ontario.

He lives in Yorkton, Saskatchewan. He defeated the mighty champion, Kolehmainen for the title after losing the first fall then battling for two hours and twenty minutes for the victory.

Some of Kolln's victims are Ernie Arthur, Frank Smith, Paul Rasley, Allan Leslie and Art Stanley. He has a reputation of winning in a few minutes as Dempsey's record shows as a fighter. The Canadian champion will be seen in Texas for the first time in an authentic match at the American Legion hall Tuesday night.

In addition to the wrestling event there will be a six round exhibition of boxing between Joe Montana and Fighting Jack McCall, the Doughboy battler who learned, like Tunney, to fight in the army. This exhibition will be for the benefit of the Legion memorial fund.

Fans Whet Appetite For 6 Round Fight For Memorial Fund

Fight fans are to have a real treat Tuesday night when Joe Montana meets Fighting Jack McCall, the doughboy battler, in a six round event at the Legion hall for the benefit of the Legion Memorial Fund.

This spectacular fight will precede the main event of a best two out of three fall championship wrestling match between Waino Ketonen and Henry Kolln.

McCall is a new comer to the Legion entertainers and will be seen often in the future in the ring here. He learned the fighting game in the army and has met some good boys. He has a slight advantage over Montana in weight but the Brooklyn fighter waives this aside and says "bring him on."

county to lend their support to his race and if he is unable to see every rings and solicits their vote and support personally he sends his greetings.

H. A. Fuchs is a candidate for re-election to the office of commissioner from Precinct No. 1, Beats 6 and 7, to succeed himself and in his announcement for re-election, is seen the urging of many friends over the district who want him to serve again as county commissioner.

The announcement that he would be a candidate for the office was made Monday while he was in Cameron to attend to business in connection with the commissioners court.

Mr. Fuchs has given to the district his best services and has at all times made an effort to please the people and to keep the roads in splendid shape. His friends point out that he has made a success and deserves the support of the people for re-election.

The voting boxes in the district are: Buckholts, Yarrleton, Sandy Ridge, North Elm, Marek, Walker's Creek, Ben Arnold and Burlington.

FOUL PLAY BELIEVED METED TO WOMAN

FORMER RESIDENT HERE MISSING FROM EL PASO WITH $700

Friends in Cameron of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Pitts will be grieved to learn of the apprehension felt for the safety of their daughter, Mrs. Clara Coleman of Dallas who has been missing from El Paso for more than a month.

The following news story is clipped from the Fort Worth Star-Telegram: Search for Mrs. Clara Coleman, 34, 3516 Ross Avenue, Dallas, who disappeared in December under circumstances that led her husband, G. R. Coleman, to think she met with foul play while en route from Los Angeles to Odessa, has proved fruitless, he reported yesterday. Mrs. Coleman, who has a daughter, 14, in school in Dallas, carried more than $700 when she left Los Angeles.

She left California December 14 and letters were received by her husband at El Paso written from Phoenix, Globe, El Paso and Odessa. She was traced as far as El Paso but the husband thinks she met with foul play either there or after leaving that city and that the letter mailed at Odessa was put in the mails by another party.

Sheriff Reeder Webb of Ector county advised Coleman that no trace could be found of her at Odessa and that there was no indication that she had gotten to that point. All the letters written by her husband were left uncalled for at the postoffice at Odessa.

the membership to obtain many candidates for the Ranks by July 1, Milam Lodge No. 125 at its last session announced plans for the celebration of the sixty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the Pythian Order. A committee was named by Chancellor Commander White to arrange the program, provide a speaker and make arrangements for an entertainment to follow the anniversary ceremony. The committees are composed of the following members: Program: W. O. Triggs, chairman; W. G. Gillis and J. P. Love, Entertainment: Jake Posey, chairman; Bob Dyer and Andrew Esslinger.

The anniversary will be celebrated Monday night February 20. "The anniversary celebration program is one of the most important conventions of the year and every effort will be made to make the session one of great educational and inspirational value," was the announcement of chairman Triggs who will direct the committee in its work of arranging for the birthday celebration. "We plan to obtain a prominent member of the Order to make the principal address. The committee also has under consideration plans for an open meeting to which all members of the Pythian family will be invited as will a number of friends of members who may be interested in becoming members of the Order. Our committee is now compiling a list of eligible men who will be given personal invitations to participate in the program.

"It is also planned to provide a short musical and literary program preceding the main address. After the ceremony the members and guests will be served with light refreshments and the remainder of the evening will be devoted to social activity. It is the purpose of the committee to provide a program of unusual worth and to personally invite every member of the Lodge to be present."

Preceding the appointment of the committee to make arrangements for the celebration Prelate W. G. Gillis made a brief statement dealing with historical features of the Pythian Order. He said: "The Order was founded in Washington, D. C., on February 19, 1864 by Justus Henry Rathbone and twelve associates. The organization meeting was held in Old Temperance Hall after the men had assisted Founder Rathbone in framing the Ritual and adopting a tentative code of by-laws to govern the body. The Order was intended to develop friendship among men and to aid the nation in healing a wound which was caused by the great civil war. The Ritual ceremony was based upon the Grecian drama of Damon and Pythias and the tents were designated as Friendship, Charity and Benevolence.

"The growth of the Pythian Order was phenomenal from the very beginning. Its membership is now about 800,000 with approximately 6,000 lodges located in cities of the United States and Canada. Besides the parent Order there are four auxiliaries. The Pythian Sisters, the women's branch, has over 300,000 members.

MAYOR H. C. MEYER RETIRES FROM OFFICE

ROCKDALE'S MAYOR, LIKE COOLIDGE, DOES NOT 'CHOOSE TO RUN' ANOTHER TERM

Rockdale citizens must choose another Mayor at the approaching city election. This fact was made definite Tuesday in an interview given by Mayor H. C. Meyer, who has decided it is time for some other citizen to assume the burden of the office. "You may say for me," Mr. Meyer stated, "that I appreciate the confidence of Rockdale people in keeping me on the job so long, but that I have definitely decided not to again ask for the office, nor to accept same even if offered. I have served the city of Rockdale as Mayor for twenty years, and for six years prior to that time as Alderman, and I feel that it is time for me to retire and pass the reins of government over to a younger, and, I sincerely trust, a more capable man. I feel that this statement is due the citizens at this time, in view of the fact that the city election will be held soon, and the people should have time to choose another man."

H. C. Meyer was elected Mayor of Rockdale originally in 1908 and nine times consecutively since that date have the people re-elected him, in a great majority of instances without opposition and for the past several terms insisting that he remain on the job more or less against his will. His long continuous term of office on the city council—26 years—is probably a record for Texas towns, and Rockdale voters will hardly know how to go about selecting his successor, for all realize that he has made an enviable record in the management of public affairs—a record that will show upon analysis a long list of accomplishments resounding to the good of the citizens and to the progress of the community as a whole.

The regular city election is to be held on April 3rd and prior to that will come the white man's primary when nominations will be made. In addition to electing a Mayor, the following places are to be filled: City Secretary, Assessor and Collector; City Attorney; two Aldermen to succeed Messrs. E. F. Ousley and P. H. Perry.—Rockdale Reporter.

School nurse says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping." Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. DO YOU KNOW THAT

Lankart Bred Cotton

Has made an unparalleled record in the history of the American Cotton World. No other cotton has ever approached its record in so short a time.

Lankart Bred Cotton

Has won more than double the amount of first prizes won by all other cottons combined at the Texas State Fair, Dallas, and the Cotton Palace, Waco, during the past five years. It has won more than nine-tenths of all First Prizes competed for at these two America's largest cotton shows.

Lankart Bred Cotton

Was planned by John McFarlane of Anderson County, Palestine, Texas, Texas' greatest cotton king who won the 1927 News Cotton Contest with a yield of 6922 pounds of 1 1/8 to 1 3/16 inch staple of nearly 14 bales on 5 acres of East Texas land, beating his next highest competitor by over $55.00 per acre gross income. This also was the highest record produced in the United States in 1927. In the Central Texas Contest, consisting of McLennan, Bell, Falls, Limestone, Hill Bosque, and Coryell counties it produced the highest gross return per acre, a yield of 3125 pounds of lint and 5218 pounds of seed, valued at $808.39 on five acres.

Lankart Bred Cotton

Sold for a premium of from 1 1/2 to 3c per pound or $7.50 to $15 per bale above ordinary cotton on the open market at Waco during the past fall, not in special lots or at a special time, but at any time and in any size lots we offered it, throughout the season.

Lankart Bred Cotton

In tests with all the more profitable varieties of Texas Cottons at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations, produced a higher lint turnout than any of the varieties of 1 1/16 inch or better staple. It produced a 1-16 to 1-8 inch better staple than any variety producing 38 or 40 per cent or better lint turnout. It produced the largest bolls of any variety of American Cotton. In yield it is well up among the leaders. These records were made in tests under identical conditions. Could one ask for a better demonstration of the superiority of our cotton?

Lankart Bred Cotton

Has been chosen by seven, One Variety gin communities this year. These are farmers who have seen or planted our cotton, inspected our fields and know our methods of handling seed. We are making a special effort to get our cotton in one variety gin project throughout Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma. This gives the cotton a full chance to show what it is capable of. It assures a premium for staple and keeps the seed pure which means satisfied customers. Write or wire us about your one-gin variety project.

Lankart Bred Cotton

Is produced on 8,000 acres of fertile Brazos Valley land, practically free from root rot or other plant diseases which assures a strong live seed with the ability to germinate and grow. We have our own gin plant where no other cotton is ginned, your assurance against gin mixed seed.

Lankart Bred Cotton

Is inspected by Texas State Department of Agriculture Cotton Inspector, in its different stages of production and handling, from our fields to the growers, and is Texas State Registered and Certified by the Board of Cotton Breeder Examiners, State Department of Agriculture, Austin, Texas. This assures you that our cotton comes up to a specified standard of purity and is handled in a way to go to the grower in the best condition. Whatever variety of cottonseed you buy, by all means demand and be sure you get nothing but Texas State Registered or Certified seed. This is your protection against gin mixed, boot-leg cotton seed.

Lankart Bred Cotton

Is sold on its merits alone. We make no claim which is not fully substantiated by facts. Our price of seed is no higher than any other first-class cottonseed. There are very few farmers who can afford to not plant.

WASHINGTON—THE FINANCIER

Washington's ability as a statesman, a diplomat, a general, and an executive is well known. But his success as a financier is worthy of great admiration, too.

On his twenty-first birthday he owned over 1,500 acres of Virginia soil that he had paid for himself from his savings as a surveyor. Upon his marriage he became the custodian of approximately $100,000.

Then came the Revolution. As general of the Continental troops and as our first President, he refused all compensation. Furthermore, he expended a large part of his private fortune to feed and clothe his needy troops.

In spite of his generosity he returned to private life at Mount Vernon in 1796 with sufficient funds to live on comfortably. His secret was in being thrifty as a young man, and wise expenditure in later years. And think how much greater the facilities are for both now-a-days.

In respect to the memory of Washington this bank will not be open on his birthday, Wednesday, February twenty-second

WILL ROGERS COULD WIN PRESIDENCY

FORMER COWBOY NATION'S TONIC; VERY POPULAR SAYS STEWART

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Washington, Feb. 12.—Will Rogers probably would be surprised if he knew how many times he has been referred to, recently, by thoroughly competent politicians here in Washington as the strongest man any party could put up for president.

Or maybe, on second thoughts, he wouldn't be so much surprised. He must have heard a good deal of the same thing on his travels around the country.

At all events he is numerously mentioned.

Oh yes, it's a joke, but only about half-way in joke.

That is to say, no politician has the slightest notion that any party will nominate him. But there's no mistake about their conviction that he'd run like a scared rabbit, if he conceivably could be nominated.

If just one single politician spoke of Will as good presidential material, that simply would be a joke, or an original idea, or whatever you want to call it—implying that it didn't amount to anything.

If two or three or four suggested him, it would begin to resemble a coincidence.

But I've heard it lots of times in the last few weeks—I couldn't pretend to say how many—twenty or thirty anyway. What's more other newspaper men tell me they have, too. It's getting to be a matter of quite a little comment in Washington correspondential circles.

Now the very same identical joke wouldn't occur to many politicians at practically the same time if it were only a joke. They think they mean it as a joke.

But away deep down in their subconscious political minds a little unseen, unsuspected germ has dug itself in—

What a corkin' good candidate Will Rogers would be, if any imaginable method could be found to capitalize him.

It isn't so much a thought—it's a yearning—one of those suppressed kinds of yearnings that the psychoanalysts tell us about—the kind that the yearner himself doesn't realize is eating on him.

Will has been joked about as a mayor.

He's been joked about as a congressman at large.

He's been joked about as prospective senator.

They started to joke about him as an ambassador to Mexico, only he made so darn good at it that the papers cut it out, out of deference to real professional diplomacy.

He's joked himself in all these various capacities.

This sort of joking's dangerous. It's liable to "take" any minute. It is "taking". Lord knows if it hasn't "taken."

Don't mistake me. I don't want to be incarcerated, as a progressive paranoiac. I understand perfectly that Will Rogers can't be nominated for the presidency.

It's on theoretically that anybody can become president.

Theoretically, astronomers say, the sun can explode, but we all know it won't.

However, I'm sure we'll all agree—the earth inevitably would be destroyed if the sun did explode.

Theoretically Will Rogers can be nominated for the presidency. He won't be—that's a cinch. But if he could or should be, he inevitably would be elected.

I can establish the sanity of that statement on the testimony of at least two dozen of the slickest politicians in Washington.

Friday Bridge Club

Last Friday afternoon Mrs. Tiff Moore entertained the members of the Friday Bridge club at her home with a very pretty party featuring the approach of George Washington's birthday. The three tables arranged for the merry games were in lovely covers and had tallies and score pad in keeping with other decorations.

A dainty refreshment course was served on the game tables at the conclusion of the games. Each guest was served an individual cherry pie topped with whipped cream and hot coffee. Table centers were crystal holders with red candles.

Miss Beth Jeter and Mrs. Rush Thomas tied for high score and in the draw Mrs. Thomas was winner and received a Washington door knocker. For low Miss Aetna Smith received curtain pulls.

Guests for the afternoon were Mrs. Terrell, guest of Mrs. Fahrendorf and Mrs. Emory Turner an d little son of San Antonio.

42 Party

Mrs. Geo. T. Graves, Mesdames Wiley and John Mangum were hostesses to a group of their friends last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Graves. The spacious living room was tastefully decorated in long streamers of hearts and cupids extending from the ceiling lights to the windows. The dining table also held a lovely Valentine. On the tables about the room were vases of flaming japonica.

The six tables were in white covers, the numbers of which were outlined in red hearts. The tallies and score pads were in red hearts with arrows piercing them. Auction forty-two was the diversion and seven games were enjoyed.

The hostesses served a dainty salad plate with tea. The luncheon clothes and napkins featured hearts and table favors were red heart shape boxes of home made candy and in the cuts went to Mesdames J. L. Barmore, Chas. McDermott, Preston Graves, Ben Atkinson, Charlie Frank Green and J. C. Martin.

HOG-TIERS—THEN AND NOW

History is said to repeat itself. Self-elected political bosses usually repeat their antiquated methods for self-advancement and political control for personal ends.

Like Banquo's ghost, Thomas B. Love bobs up at the proper time—for Love. Marshall Hicks, one of his ablest as well as craftiest partners, bobs up at the proper time.

This has been the story of political years for almost three decades. In campaign years these gentlemen use new wine in old bottles—that is, they attached themselves to popular political idols of the hour or popular movements in the political world.

For months and months Boss Love has been bobbing up. He has a platform—instruct the Texas delegates against Reed and Smith and Ritchie. Hog-tie the Texas delegates and place them under the unit rule. Prohibition is in danger. Law enforcement is lax. It wouldn't do to place a man who had ever been a wet in the white house.

Samuel J. Tilden was a wet. Grover Cleveland was a wet. Woodrow Wilson was a local optionist. He vetoed a law enforcement measure enacted by congress and in 1920, in the city of San Francisco, there was an emissary from Woodrow Wilson on the ground with a little note advising the leaders to declare for the modification of the Volstead act.

But why digress or get away from the milk in the coconut?

In the year 1924 the Invisible Empire of the ku klux klan was in the saddle in Texas. A state convention to send delegates to the national convention was held in the city of Waco.

Thomas B. Love was there. Marshall Hicks was there. Other who are bobbers-up were there. It is useless to parade their names.

Love was the ringmaster behind the scenes at Waco and Hicks was in the front of the delegations.

They took the klan movement upon their band wagon.

There wasn't a word said about prohibition or law enforcement.

Gov. Pat Morris Neff was there. Those who are familiar with the tactics and methods employed, assert that Gov. Neff was tendered a place as delegate at large if he pledged himself in advance to support a certain candidate for governor in the primary to follow in July long after the work of the national convention was over.

This was the high tide convention of the klan. Then came the ebb tide. There came a state primary for the election of candidates for governor and all down the line. Overwhelmed were the klan candidates or the klan endorsed candidates.

This came upon the heels of the disaster that fell upon the hog-tied Love-Hicks-Marvin delegation in the city of New York.

Dan Moody was drafted for the office of attorney general. Love and Hicks were not among the drafters. He swept the field. He was elected attorney general.

Two years later he was drafted for the office of governor. He was elected. Dan Moody is the popular idol. The klan does not dominate. Like all things perishable, it passed away. Now Love and Hicks insist that the delegates should be instructed for Moody for president and the erudite and crafty Hicks insists that the time has come for the South to get away from the North and the East and the balance of the world and name a presidential candidate all its own.

Well, the obvious question is whether they are going to use the personal popularity of Gov. Moody in a similar manner for the same purpose that they used the invisible order of the ku klux klan in the city of Waco four years ago, when they took the movement upon their own personal band wagon.

Neff did not attend the Madison Square garden convention. He let the combination leaders of four years ago know that he was a free-born citizen, the governor of a great state and a great people, and if it had not been for his horror of profane language, doubtless he would have told them to go to hades and take their delegation with them.

This is the history of the Waco convention and its bosses and hog-tied delegates.

Speaking in round numbers there are 1,000,000 democrats in Texas, speaking for real democrats, democrats who are unselfish and not seekers for spoils or the clubs of self-elected bosses, these democrats who wish to see their party in power in the national should come out of their trance.

They should organize in their precincts. They should organize in the 254 counties in Texas. They should organize in their congressional districts.

They should vote down instructions 'against' candidates for president or vice president. They should vote down instructions 'for' candidates for president and vice president.

They should select men and women as delegates who believe in the rule of majority, who believe in the rule of the people, who are wise and patriotic enough to pick the best men for standard-bearers and to declare in the platform to be made, in unmistakable language the wishes of the people of Texas with regard to the policies of the party and the legislation that should be enacted for the protection and benefit of all alike.

Yes, the obvious question is, "Whether Love and Hicks are going to use the personal popularity of Gov. Moody in a similar manner?"

They took the klan movement upon their band wagon four years ago.

Now are they playing and planning to take Gov. Moody upon their band wagon in order to pick a Love-Hicks hog-tied delegation bosses dictate or decree?—Austin American.

Senior Endeavor

Mrs. Guy Slocumb was hostess to members of the Senior Endeavor at her home in North Cameron Tuesday night to a Valentine party.

The rooms of the home were in red hearts and Valentine decorations. Many games were enjoyed in keeping with the Valentine idea. Miss Lorne Wade and Harvey Yoe were successful in receiving a prize for one interesting game. Hearts were passed with names of motions written on them as, fear love, etc., and all were asked to act the name they drew. The winners drew the word 'anger.'

The dining table had for a cover a Valentine center piece and in the center was a colonial lady. Plate favors were little Valentines. The hostess served a salad in apple cups with nut bread and heart shaped cookies with punch. Mrs. Slocumb was assisted in serving by Misses Doris Adams and Mabel Wade. There were sixteen present including guests other than members. Rev. and Mrs. Wallace Jones and grandmother Lane were guests also.

Dramatic Club

The members of the Dramatic Club under the leadership of Miss Jolly Blanche Pitts enjoyed a play given by six of the members Monday night entitled "Kate's Infatuation." After the play all departed to the H. E. room and enjoyed weenies, pickles, buns and soda water.

Monday Bridge Club

Miss Bill Fontaine entertained the Monday night Bridge Club and complimented as guest Mrs. S. Sterling at the home of her parents at Jones Prairie. Three tables were in bridge appointment. High score was won by Miss Martha Lou Hooks, a double compact. Table favors were bottles of perfume and in the cuts fell to Misses Dulce McCall, Blanche Wiley and Mary Beth Whitley. The hostess served a salad plate with htea.

Baptist W. M. S.

The ladies of the Baptist church met in circles in the following homes. Circle one met with Mrs. J. Andrews with eight present. Mrs. John Denson led the Bible lesson from Royal Service. Circle two met with Mrs. J. B. White with eleven present. Mrs. Wm. Henderson led the Bible lesson in Royal Service. Circle three met with Mrs. A. N. Green with ten present. Mrs. S. M. Burns led a very interesting lesson from the Standard. Circle four met with Mrs. Flinn with fourteen present. Mrs. John A. Smith led the lesson from the Mission book, "Decade of W. M. U. Service." The hostesses served hot chocolate, sandwiches and cake.

Wednesday Bridge Club

On last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Geo. T. Graves the members of the Wednesday Club entertained the Bridge club that meets on the second and fourth Friday of each month. In December a tournament party was held by these clubs and the Wednesday club lost.

The rooms of the home were in Valentine dress with japonica in vases about for floral charm. Table accessories were red hearts, the red and white color scheme also was featured in the delightful salad plate. During the afternoon partners were matched by one from each club. At the conclusion of games only guests cut for table favors and at each table two prizes were given. A large red heart shaped box of homemade candy for high and a small heart shaped box of candy for low, making each guest receive a gift.

Play "Old Fashioned Mother" Is Success Will Show Again

The play "Old Fashioned Mother" one of the greatest home talent successes ever shown in Cameron, will be presented again in Caldwell Tuesday night, February 21, it was learned yesterday from J. A. Lindle, director of the play.

On Sunday night the play will be showing week, as announced above the presented at Westphalia and the following is to be shown at Caldwell.

Mr. Lindle in his successful presentation of the plays here hopes to see the Little Theater idea advanced in Cameron and made a success. The play has a great moral and inspires both laughter and tears.

Mrs. J. A. Lindle in the part of the mother was an inspiring characterization of the part. Miss Frances Kunz, playing the part Lowizy Custard, is one of the stars of the play, and Henry Michalka as Jeremiah Gosling is a scream with his wit and sarcasm. Leo Werner plays a strong part as the outcast and Alphonse Sutter as the preacher, a "whited sepulchre" gives more talent to the play.

Miss Mary Ellen Manning with her impressive stage presence, gives zest to the program and Miss Mary Richter in her portrayal of the girl at home fits in well with the scheme of the play and gives expression to much talent.

Bill Richter as the prodigal son cannot be excelled and Pete Mikula, his brother, plays a prominent part. Albert Richter as sheriff has his part.

Miss Christine Kubecka as the village belle adds much in her part of portraying the modern.

The following is a cast of the play: Deborah Underhill, a Mother in Israel—Mrs. Joe Lindle.

Widder Bill Pindle, leader of the choir—Miss Mary Ellen Manning.

Miss Lowizy Loving Custard, plain sewing and gossip—Miss Francis Kunz.

Jeremiah Gosling, "Jerry", a merry heart—Henry Michalka.

Enoch Rone, an outcast and a wanderer—Leo Werner.

Quintus Todd, the country sheriff—Albert Richter.

KETONEN, CHAMPION BEATS VIC MILLER

PAWHUSKA MAN AND FAVORITE GOES DOWN BEFORE NORWEGIAN

Waino Ketonen is still the champion of the world and proved his superiority over Vic Miller here Tuesday night when he beat the Pawhuska Octopus, taking two falls out of three but losing the second fall when the giant from Oklahoma pinned him with a body scissors.

Waino beat Miller the first and last falls and in both used the double wrist lock from which held the Pawhuska man could not release himself. Miller was the local favorite but Ketonen who has appeared here in three matches is becoming the local favorite. He got a big hand when he defeated Karhunaari the seemingly unbeatable Finn.

Although the house was not as large as usual the match was one of the best ever seen in Cameron.

Ketonen gave away about ten pounds in this match. He declares Miller one of the best men he has ever met on the mat.

A big demand is now being made here for a return engagement between Karhunaari and Ketonen and between the Finn and Miller.

Karhunaari left Cameron this week for Wichita Falls, but expects to return to the city some time next week.

Williamson County Will Try to Reduce Acreage of Cotton

One hundred and sixty-five farmers, bankers and business men in a mass meeting at the Williamson county court house Saturday night unanimously passed a resolution calling upon Governor Dan Moody to use his influence toward securing a meeting of all the governors of Southern cotton growing states for the purpose of formulating plans for a substantial reduction in the cotton acreage the coming crop year. It was the sense of the meeting that only through the reduction of acreage and holding down production that a price could be received in keeping with the price of production and a fair profit. Owen W. Sherrill was chairman of the meeting and a movement has been launched this week seeking to enlist the interest of leading farmers and business men in a movement to secure a reduction in Williamson county acreage the coming year.—Georgetown Sun.

Branchville News

We had such a good rain Sunday. It came in such a fine time as every one is real anxious to start a garden.

Owing to the rain we did not have any church Sunday. There was a B. Y. P. U. program Sunday night and the attendance was very good. Group No. 2 had an average of 91 per cent and No. one had 89 per cent. We expected a visiting B. Y. P. U. to be with us and render a program but they did not come. We will look forward to their coming next Sunday night.

There was a very interesting literary program at school Friday afternoon. One part of the program especially to be mentioned was a humorous reading by Mrs. Robinett which was splendidly given and everyone enjoyed it so much.

Mrs. Robinett is one that is equal to the occasion any time she is called on for anything. This is only a little praise for our principal that all in our community esteem so highly and we all are aware of the fact that we have a prize in our school. We have had boys and girls to go to Cameron after they finished here under Mrs. Robinett and make splendid records. Herman Harlan entered the graduating class at Cameron and did excellent work. He is now going to school at A. and M. and if his work

LEAGUE PROGRAM AT ROCKDALE MARCH 16

INTERSCHOLASTIC PROGRAM IS OUTLINED AND REGAL
CITY PREPARES

"All roads lead to Rockdale" for the County Meet of the University Interscholastic League, to be held March 16th and 17th. Rockdale invites you, your pupils, friends and patrons for a two day contest and fellowship meeting. Make your plans and arrangements to be with us during those days.

Work is progressing rapidly along all lines and our desire is to make this the biggest and best meet ever held in the County. Let us all be busy.

For those interested in Choral Singing, the Executive Committee, decided up the following arrangement: Rural Schools, ward or grammar schools and high school should enter teams composed of not less than twelve nor more than twenty members. No one can assist in leading the singing except a student. All teams may choose their own accompanist. High schools must carry all four parts. Other schools or divisions sing in unison. Points on which grading and judging are based are as follows:

1. Memorization of words, 20%.
2. Harmony, 40%.
3. Unison, 40%.

Rural schools must sing, "America the Beautiful."

Ward or grammar schools sing, "Sweet and Low."

High schools, all classes, sing, "The Merry Life," as given in "The Gray Book of Songs," Cable Company. Miss Frances Looney of Ben Arnold has charge of this contest.

It has been decided to have the rural school exhibit again this year. Mrs. I. L. Nunley, Rockdale, is chairman of the exhibit. All teachers who are interested in this exhibit, please begin the collection of specimens of the type of work that is being done by the children in their regular school work.

Much interest is being manifest by the schools in the Art Appreciation Contest. All schools can enter this contest at a very small cost and its aesthetic value is beyond the few cents involved. Miss Flora M. Sharpe, Rockdale, has charge of this contest. A program outlining the time, place, etc., for holding each event will be printed and sent out within a few days. If anyone has any suggestions to offer concerning the program, due consideration will be given if sent in within the next few days.

All questions concerning the Meet will be cheerfully answered. If we can be of service do not hesitate to call upon us.

Yours for a successful Meet,
Supt. S. P. Conn, Director General.

REST ROOM SITE CHANGE ADVOCATED

PLAN TO CLEAR COURT HOUSE
SQUARE OF UNSIGHTLY
BUILDING IS APPROVED

Judge T. S. Henderson opposed the erection of a rest room for white and colored men and women on the North East corner of the square in a speech before the Commercial Club Monday night, on the ground that a new brick building for this purpose would perpetuate the unsightly and unsafe old building now there, which in his opinion should be torn down and replaced by modern records building, to save from destruction the almost invaluable records of the county.

The club by vote sustained Judge Henderson position and a committee consisting of Messrs. Lawrence, McIntosh and Henderson were appointed to appear before the Commissioner's court and ask that the rest room be located on the jail lot or some other nearby place.

INDUSTRY HELPS AGRICULTURE BUILD UP THE SMALL TOWN

Decentralization of Manufacturing Brings Markets for Products Closer to the Farm—Gives Employment and Better Standards of Living to Rural Communities.

By T. R. PRESTON
President, American Bankers Association

NO class of people has been more diligent in trying to understand the agricultural problem than the bankers of this country. The agricultural problem is a real problem and demands the best thought of everyone. This country cannot continue along happy lines with only sections of the country prosperous. Prosperity must be passed around if anybody is long to enjoy it. This question cannot be solved by the farmers alone, but the majority opinion is that there is no legislative remedy for agriculture. It is an economic question pure and simple and must be worked out accordingly.

T. R. PRESTON

A few years ago it was contended that agriculture did not have sufficient credit facilities. That proposition was often made a political question. I do not presume there are many who will question the fact that agriculture now has ample credit facilities.

Mixing Farms and Factories

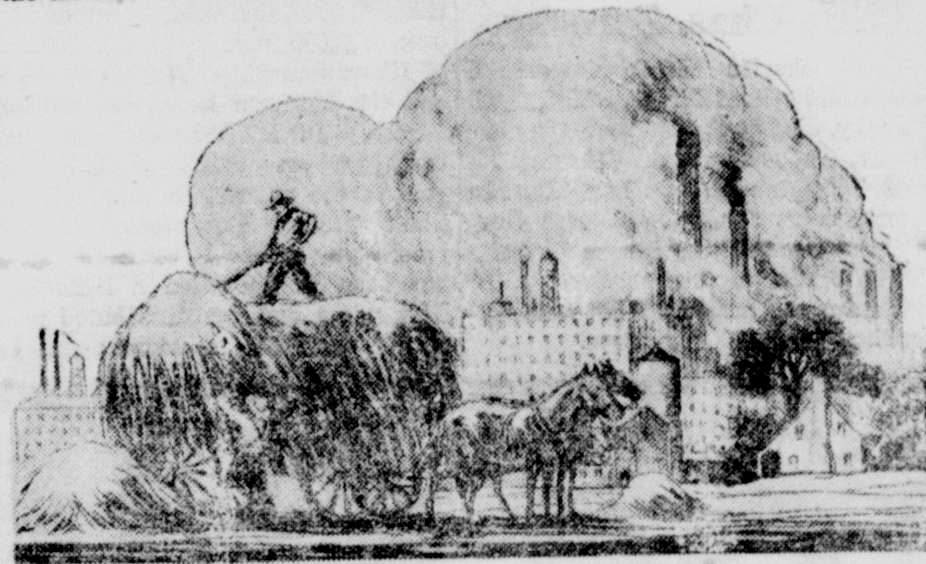

It is a fact that no community and no state has ever become great purely from agriculture. It is not to the interest of New York and other great centers to see the small communities and the agricultural sections losing their wealth and importance. In the end it will react upon them to their disadvantage. There seems to me a real remedy for these small communities and also for agriculture. This remedy, which is the mixing of industry with agriculture, is now being applied in many localities with satisfactory results.

Industry and agriculture are better balanced in Ohio, North Carolina and Pennsylvania than in any other states of the Union, and in these states there is no serious agricultural problem and we hear little complaint from the farmers. This mixing of industry ing examples from my own state to prove this proposition, and I mention these because I am more familiar with conditions there than elsewhere.

Twelve years ago Kingsport, Tennessee, had a population of about one thousand. Great industries like a large camera company, a big cement plant and a number of other industries were located there partly through the influence of an outstanding New York business man. In a little more and agriculture is called by some decentralization of industry.

Mixing Industry With Agriculture Means Prosperity for Rural Districts

I would not suggest that manufacturing institutions move from the cities to the small villages, but I do think it would be better for this country for future industries to be placed in these small villages rather than to be further congested in the great centers. This would in part also be a solution of our labor problem. The bringing of industries to small villages increases the market for agricultural products, gives employment to surplus labor, elevates the standards of living, increases public revenue, reduces taxes and vastly increases educational facilities.

Two Striking Examples
I believe I can give you two striking

THE BANKER-FARMER MOVEMENT GROWING

There are several reasons for the growth of the banker-farmer movement in Pennsylvania. William S. McKay, Chairman of the Agricultural Committee, Pennsylvania Bankers Association, has reported to the Agricultural Commission of the American Bankers Association. The cooperation and leadership of the county agents in the several counties of the state; the appointment and functioning of county chairmen of agriculture known as Key Bankers, one of whom there is in each county of the state; and the organization of county bankers associations, whereby agriculture is given consideration by all the banks, are responsible for this interest. The following table shows the activities for the year:

Project	Number of Counties
Sent young farmers to state college for special course	5
Encouraged farm shows	16
Held agricultural tours	6
Sponsored various club activities	38
Gave illustrated lectures on poultry, cow testing, and improved farm methods	1
Distributed purebred livestock, chicks, and disease-free potatoes	13

"There is probably no class of business men that has a greater opportunity for helpfulness than the bankers in this movement," declares Mr. McKay. "It builds up a substantial community which makes for better than twelve years these have brought the population of that city up to seventeen thousand. Just a few miles away, at Elizabethton, they are building a great rayon plant, the first unit to cost $5,000,000. The population of that town is now two thousand, but it is estimated that this will be multiplied by five in less than two years. It is stated that the total investment in manufacturing industry in that community within a period of five years will probably reach $50,000,000.

The balancing of industry and agriculture will solve most of our so-called agricultural problems and we will not need such political measures as will in my opinion, do harm if enacted to the very class they pretend to benefit.

banking institutions; it adds to the material prosperity of our state, but above all, it is the expression of a service which will react favorably upon the character of those interested."

BANKERS HELP OUT

The Oklahoma Bankers Association for the past twelve years has financed through its five groups ten scholarships in the A. & M. College at Stillwater. The winners are chosen by the Extension Department of the college on the merits of the club work done by the boys and girls over a certain period of time. The groups of the association finance the first year of the winner's college work.

The president of a national bank in Fayetteville, Arkansas, has been credited with doing more for the farmers of his section than any other one man. His work has consisted of introducing pure bred Holstein cattle into his county, helping employ a county agent, donating prizes to boys and girls in club work, and distributing better seed.

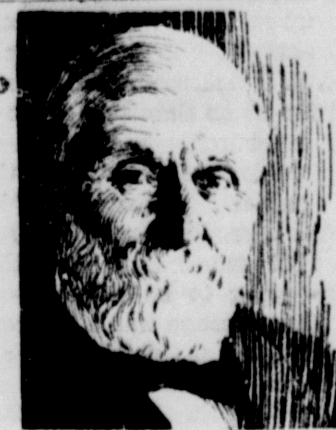

Here are some of the things accomplished in Randolph County, Ark., with the help of bankers last year: forty-three purebred gilts were bought at a reasonable price and placed with boys and girls, on notes; three thousand eggs from high producing hens were distributed with the idea of developing flocks of at least one hundred hens on every farm; four pure bred Jersey bulls whose dams had a record of over 700 pounds butterfat, have been purchased by the banks and will be paid for out of service fees.

Miss Corrie Collier of Baylor College was home for the week end.

Party Monday Night

The members of the choir of the Methodist church and their wives and husbands enjoyed a Valentine party in the basement of the church Monday night. The room was decorated in red hearts and potted plants. Mrs. W. H. Stafford had charge of the games and contests. A salad plate with ice cream was served by Misses Dora Emily Moore and Lola Clinton one in blue and one in pink colonial dresses.

Mr. Fred Thompson, Mrs. Meta McCown and family motored to Georgetown Sunday and spent the day with relatives.

DR. W. B. CALDWELL
AT THE AGE OF 83

While Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, knew that constipation was the curse of advancing age, he did not believe that a "purge" or "physic" every little while was necessary.

To him, it seemed cruel that so many constipated old people had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to "regulate" the bowels of old folks. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but each dose helps to strengthen the bowel muscles, shortly establishing natural "regularity." It never gripes, sickens

WALKER'S CREEK CHURCH AND COMMUNITY NEWS

ODELL JAMESON, Pastor

Sunday's Services

We did not have services Sunday morning because of the rain, but on Sunday night, a large crowd was present for the B. Y. P. U. and preaching service. The pastor using for his subject, "Mother, Home and Heaven," said in part: "Next to God we are indebted most to our Mothers, first for life and second, for making life worth living. The true home must have permanency, solidarity, reverence, obedience and a Christian spirit. A true Mother and a Christian home, are the first two steps which lead to our Heavenly home. Just as we are born of our earthly parents into a temporal home, so we must be born spiritually in order to enter our Heavenly Home."

Rev. E. S. Hutcherson, of Cameron, preached for us on Saturday night on financing a church. We are very grateful for his fine message on this important subject. The results of his sermon has already been seen from the fact that several have said that they were going to be tithers from now on. The message was also profitable because just at this time, we are beginning the budget system of financing our church. We invite Bro. Hutcherson to come again.

New Members

On Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Draygo, who have recently moved into our community, united with us, coming from the La Verda church. On Sunday night, Mr. Don Barrett, of Cameron, united with us from the Cameron church. We are happy to have these come and hope they will soon find their places in our midst.

B. Y. P. U. Training School

Several of our young people are going to attend the B. Y. P. U. Training School, which begins at Cameron on Monday the 20th. It is the wish of the pastor that at least twenty of our people go to Cameron every night for five nights and take this study course.

S. S. Rally Day

The Superintendent, Mrs. H. H. Chamberlain, is now planning a big Sunday School Rally Day. It is her purpose to have this affair to last all day, having a record breaking attendance at Sunday School, a good program, and a fine dinner for all who come. Watch for the announcements.

With Our People

Our community was visited Sunday morning by Jupiter, from Mount Olympus and as a result the early oats, and the farmers are greatly rejoicing. Then, on Monday night, came the long looked for norther, the table's friends but the hog's enemy.

Other visitors in our community for the week end were: Mrs. Faulkner of Waco; Mr. Evans, from West Texas; the two Misses Price, near Buckholts, and Miss Mary Louise Wright from Rosebud. We do not mention the Cameron people as visitors, since we feel like Walker's Creek is only a continuation of Cameron.

At the last meeting of our Associational B. Y. P. U., one of our fine young men, Mr. George Angell, was made leader of the Sunday School division of the North zone. The pastor remained as leader of the B. Y. P. U.

We are sorry to have to mention the sickness of Mrs. John Jinks, who has only recently moved into our community from Yarrelton. We wish for her a quick recovery.

Mr. Verner and Elmer Angell, went fox chasing one night the past week. This sport seems to be about the only thing left that might remind one of 'Ye good old days.'

If you are not a subscriber of this paper, then subscribe, so you can keep up with the news of our church and community.

niversary convention is composed of W. O. Triggs, chairman, and W. G. Gillis and J. P. Love.

"The anniversary convention is one of the most important meetings of the lodge during the whole year and an effort will be made to bring every member to the Castle Hall on that night," Mr. Triggs said in his announcement of the extensive plans being made by the committee in charge. "This meeting has both a historical and inspirational urge. Well-informed members will speak on the history of the Order and its achievements during its sixty-four years. Other members will discuss the aims and objectives of the Order as outlined in recent bulletins issued by Supreme Lodge officers and will discuss the part to be played by our local lodge in the great program outlined for the Order in 1928. We believe this convention will not only be a record breaker for attendance but that the inspiration of the meeting will make it possible for the Lodge to reach new goals.

Chancellor Commander J. B. White also made a brief statement regarding the founding of the Order. "It was organized by Justus H. Rathbone and the first lodge was instituted at Old Temperance Hall, Washington, D. C., on February 19, 1864. Twelve other men assumed the obligation and with Rathbone composed the first lodge. The Ritual ceremony was based upon John Banim's story of Damon and Pythias, a Grecian gem of early literature. The tenets of the Order are friendship, charity and benevolence."

"The Order is purely American. It was the first Fraternal Society to be chartered by Congress and its jurisdiction is confined to the North American continent. The Order has 800,000 members and approximately 6,000 lodges in the United States and Canada. It has four auxiliaries. The Pythian Sisters, the women's branch, has over 300,000 members; the Knights of Khorassan about 100,000 members and the Uniform Rank, the military branch about 100,000 men in uniform, most of whom would be ready for service to the country in time of war. The Insurance Department provides protection for the Pythian family. It has been in operation a little over fifty years and has distributed more than $61,000,000 to widows and orphans of members. About 90,000 members of the Order are members of the Department and have insurance amounting to $122,000,000 to protect their dependents."

Drugs Excite the Kidneys, Drink Water

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble because we often eat too much rich food. Our blood is filled with acids which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, begin drinking lots of good soft water and get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts. Take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

War Veteran Visits In Cameron; Member Of Famous Ninetieth

W. H. White of San Antonio was in Cameron last week to visit with his brother, J. B. White, editor of the Cameron Herald. He came here with O. B. Black and Judge Douglas who appeared in court as attorneys for Hubert Hefley Motor Company.

Mr. White has resided in San Antonio since his return from Chicago in 1922 where he attended school after his release from the army.

He was a member of the famous 90th Division and saw active service in a number of the major engagements in which the American expeditionary forces took part. On November 1, 1928, eleven days before the Armistice in the Meuse Argonne, he was severely wounded, losing his left leg. After returning to America he spent some time at the base hospital in Fort Des Moines, Iowa, later going to Chicago where he attended school for three years in the study of architecture.

Mr. White tells some interesting as well as hazardous experiences while in France. An all day ride across the shell torn field in an ambulance with his leg practically shot away and a more than two days journey in a French box car before he reached the base hospital, and then to be told that he would not survive, is in brief the shock he suffered in that fateful day along the flaming front. By sheer courage and grit he pulled through and lives to tell the tale.

Mr. White enjoyed his visit here and his acquaintances trust that he will pay another visit to Cameron in the near future.

Rockdale Knights Of Pythias to Hold Anniversary Service

(Rockdale Reporter)

Conferring the Page Rank on a class of five candidates will be the principal feature of an extensive program given by San Gabriel Lodge, Knights of Pythias, in celebration of the sixty-fourth anniversary of the founding of the Order to be held February 20. Following the initiation a special program will be given and a number of leading members will speak on the history, achievements and objectives of the fraternity. The program will be followed by a smoker and lunch. Each and every member of the lodge is expected to be present. Lodge opens at 7:30.

Much interest has developed in the lodge in forming an anniversary class and a number of prominent citizens have made application for initiation. The convention promises to be one of the largest for many months, according to Chancellor Commander Jack Crump, who will be in charge of the ceremony. The drive for membership in this class was carried out under a definite program of activity which has for its objective the addition of twenty members by July 1, and to double the attendance record.

The committee in charge of the anniversary convention is composed of J. Michael Weed, chairman, and Ed Gunn, H. C. Meyer, E. T. Crump, Jno. E. Cooke, E. A. Camp, Gust Backhaus Sr. and E. B. Phillips.

District Deputy Grand Chancellor M. G. Cox of Cameron, will make an official visit to the lodge on this occasion and will deliver an address.

Cameron Attorney Is Named By Gregory On Varsity Drive

Cameron is well represented in the list of prominent Texans Hon. T. W. Gregory of Houston has asked to assist him in the University Union campaign he is leading. An examination of the general campaign committee for this project discloses the name of T. S. Henderson, Jr.

The former attorney general of the United States is attempting to raise a sum of $500,000 among ex-students and friends of the school with which to carry out a building program of three buildings at the University of Texas to house the extra class activities of students. A general union building for social, forensic, musical and literary organizations, a large auditorium and gymnasium for men and of woman's activities and gymnasium building comprise the project. The board of regents have agreed to furnish $600,000 of the amount needed if the Ex-Students' Association of the school will raise the remainder.

The primary purpose of the movement is to provide facilities at the school which the regents could not provide for many years, and to encourage the growth of democracy among the students and faculty so that better training in citizenship may result from University education, Mr. Gregory states.

A Delightful Afternoon

On last Saturday afternoon from three to five o'clock Miss Mary Frances Green complimented a group of her friends with a beach party. Green and yellow were used for the color scheme and daffodils in bowls and vases gave adornment and color. Tallies and score pads were bathing girls. At the conclusion of the many games of bridge Miss Velda Walker was given, for high an incense burner of statue design, a souvenir of Galveston. Mrs. Eugene Green was low and was given a bronze ship paper weight. Table favors were iridescent shells filled with green and yellow heart candy. These fell in the cuts to Mrs. C. W. Bradbury, Mrs. Eugene Green and Mrs. John C. Young.

Miss Mary Frances has just returned from an extended visit with friends in Galveston and brought souvenirs for her party and many interesting things to tell her friends here.

She served a salad plate with tea and during the afternoon salted nuts were passed. A guest was Mrs. Emory Turner of San Antonio.

School nurse says
all girls should know this

Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless, and works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

CARDUI
In Use 45 Years C-2

Editor of The Herald,

Dear Sir:

Last week I saw Louis Wardlow the Fort Worth candidate for governor, down here at Austin, and had quite a long talk with him. Maybe you are wondering who he is and what chance he has got to beat Moody out of his job, so I'll tell you a little about him.

It happens that I have known Louis for a long time. His grandfather and my father are the only two living members of old Company G, Eighteenth Arkansas Infantry, and have been cronies for 70 years. Louis was raised in Runnels County, on a farm just south of Ballinger, where his father went 38 years ago when he was a pretty small boy. I spent about 20 years in Concho County, and often visited with the Wardlow family, so I know quite a bit about Louis.

He was always a sober-minded, hard working youngster back in the days when he was hauling watermelons to town for his father. He didn't go in very much for the fishing, hunting, baseball and other sports of the boys of the neighborhood. He had to work hard, but managed to get a good high school education.

When he was still pretty young he got a job teaching a country school and spent his nights studying law. He kept that up for three or four years, until he could pass the bar examination. Then he got married and moved down to Sonora, in Sutton County, and started practicing law. He did pretty well down there, served several terms as county judge and began to accumulate some property. Finally, about ten years ago, he moved to Ft. Worth to open a law office, and has done well up there.

Wardlow is essentially a business man and a business man's lawyer. I mean, in the sense that he is not a political lawyer, nor is he even a criminal lawyer. He has never before dabbled in state politics, nor has he handled very many criminal cases in his law work. When I call him a business man, I do not mean to class him with "big business," but with the farmers and stockmen, for he owns a ranch in Sutton County and two or three farms scattered over the state, and is thoroughly acquainted with the needs of the farmers and stockmen.

And not only is he a farmer and ranchman, but looks like one, with a rugged, lantern-jawed face. He even looks more like Abraham Lincoln, being six feet, four and a half inches tall, about Abe's height.

In offering for governor Mr. Wardlow has in mind giving the state a strictly business administration, and if elected the give and take politicians certainly would be left out. He is not much of a trader, even to trading appointments for influence. He is very serious-minded, and takes himself and all his work seriously.

There is also a striking comparison between Wardlow of today and Jim Ferguson of 14 years ago, in that he comes into the field virtually an unknown, with a special appeal for the farming elements. Probably he hopes it will be with the same result that Ferguson met.

Now for a little discussion of the politics of it. Ferguson has come out for Wardlow, which means he will get a good many votes. Probably 100,000 voters will follow Jim—maybe more. Then Wardlow has a certain following of his own. Then there is another big bunch who are always dissatisfied with the man in office, the ones who failed to get the jobs they asked for and those disgruntled for some reason or another. There will be more than 700,000 votes cast. It will take nearly 400,000 to elect. Some of your readers may disagree with me, Mr. Editor, but I can't see where anybody has got a chance to beat Moody if he runs again.

Sul Ross, Jim Hogg, Charlie Culbertson, S. W. T. Lanham, Tom Campbell, Oscar Colquitt, Jim Ferguson, Will Hobby and Pat Neff were all elected for second terms. It was not quite two terms in Hobby's case. In fact, Mrs. Ferguson was the only exception to the rule of the past 40 years and more of giving a governor a second term.

People may disagree about Moody's administration. Personally, I think it has been pretty negative, due in a large measure to the legislature killing most of the good bills he supported. But, even if he has nothing outstanding to the credit of his administration, there hasn't been any outstanding scandal or bad breaks chargeable to him. And lots of people consider a colorless, negative administration that neither goes forward nor backward a good administration. So it looks to me like Dan will get the office again if he wants it, and that Wardlow has picked the wrong time to run. He might have done a whole lot better if he had waited two years, for he is a good man and would make a good governor.

Sincerely,
Thomas Jefferson Brown.

Miss McClendon Bride Tuesday Morning of S. E. Dossett

Stanton Evans Dossett and Miss Besse McClendon were married at 11 o'clock this morning at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Rev. Charles Sheer officiating with an impressive ritual.

The bride who was given in marriage by Judge Sam R. Scott, who is her relative, was beautiful in navy blue crepe Elizabeth with accessories in harmony. She wore a blue spring hat, made of ribbon. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of Briar Cliff roses and lilies of the valley.

Attire of Attendants

Miss Louise McClendon, sister of the bride was gowned in beige chiffon, with spring hat of linen Bakou weave. Her flowers were beautiful Madame Butterfly roses.

Miss Frances Dossett, sister of the groom, as brides maid wore beige georgette frock, with accessories in keeping. Her hat was one of the popular linen weave. She carried a cluster of Madame Butterfly roses.

The groom was accompanied by Stanley Swift as best man, while Halbert Buchanan was groomsman. Chas. A. Westbrook III and Dr. Clifford Swift were ushers.

Heralded by Music

The wedding hour was heralded by Professor Fred E. Eggert at the organ and Mrs. Lucille Dunagan singing Cadman's "At Dawning," in sweet voice.

Departure was made for a honeymoon in the city of Mexico, and on their return Mr. and Mrs. Dossett will live at Cameron, where the groom continues the business established there by his father, the late A. J. Dossett in the Cameron Compress Company.

The groom attended the Waco high school and later Baylor university, and the bride was a high school student and later connected with the Amicable Life Insurance Company.

The bride is one of the attractive daughters of Mrs. Eula McClendon, Morrow avenue, and has a host of friends. The groom is the son of Mrs. A. J. Dossett, 1503 Columbus avenue, and has the best wishes of a wide circle of friends, his own and those of his parents. Waco gained when the Dossetts came to this city, and identified themselves with its best interests from the standpoint of culture, social life and church activities.

Attendants Remembered

The bride gave her attendants tiny perfume atomizers for their shopping bags and the groom remembered his attendants with bill folds.

Guests invited to witness the ceremony included only relatives and intimate friends of Mr. and Mrs. Dossett. Among the group of visitors present related to the bridegroom were Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Stern of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Peterson of New Orleans, Mrs. E. B. Keeling and daughter, Miss Anne Keeling of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Henley of Cameron and Mrs. T. J. Chidlow of Oklahoma City.

The above marriage will be read with interest by friends of both Mr. Dossett and Miss McClendon. Mr. Dossett has been in Cameron several years as manager of the Cameron Compress. Before going to Waco he lived here with his parents. Miss McClendon has visited in Cameron many times and has a host of friends who will welcome her to Cameron to make this their home.

Weenie Roast

Mrs. John Ryan invited a number of class mates and neighbors to her house from 7 to 8 o'clock Monday night to help her son Robert Sloan celebrate his eleventh birthday.

Mrs. Ryan was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. Buddy Wilson. After the boys had enjoyed weenies and marshmallows they gathered around the dining table and cut the birthday cake. Those enjoying this lovely surprise were: John Martin, John Atkinson, Roy Heath, Lenard Blaylock, Trent Newton, Billy Gillis, John and Gus Evans, John Haygood, Hilliard Thomas, John Burns, Jack Arriett, Billy Wilson Carter and James Brogdon, Harold Jackson, Tom White and the honoree.

Lincoln's Gettysburg AddressFour score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation conceived in Liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war testing whether that nation or any nation so conceived and so dedicated can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war.
We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But in a larger sense we can not dedicate—we can not consecrate—we can not hallow this ground. The brave men living and dead who struggled here have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note nor long remember what we say here but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living rather to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced.
It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us —that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain that this nation under God shall have a new birth of freedom—and that Government of the people for the people shall not perish from the earth.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed With Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful
Lustre At Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance.
Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young!
Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell,
as it darkens so naturally and evenly.
You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

for Old Folks

While Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticeilo, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, knew that constipation was the curse of advancing age, he did not believe that a "purge" or "physic" every little while was necessary.

To him, it seemed cruel that so many constipated old people had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to "regulate" the bowels of old folks. Dr.
Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but each dose helps to strengthen the bowel muscles, shortly establishing natural "regularity." It never gripes, sickens or upsets the system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.

"KING or COMMONER?"

ECONOMIC SIGNIFICANCE OF THE AMERICAN COTTON INDUSTRY—From latest volume in Manhattan Library of Popular Economics, republished in serial form through courtesy of Bank of the Manhattan Company, New York.

No.

ARTICLE TWO

RULER OR SERVANT?

COTTON—King or Commoner? Despotism ruler over thousands of square miles and millions of subjects, or daily servant to ninety-nine per cent of the world's population? Contradictory as it may sound, both definitions are true.

Grecian mythology tells of an ocean god named Proteus who had the power to assume many different forms, but even the Greeks could hardly have imagined a single product of the soil that could furnish the race with most of its clothing and bedding and some of its shelter and house decorations; that could cause ships to plow the seven seas and wheels to turn in countless factories; that could supply hospitals with bandages and other materials of relief; that, on the other hand, could bring death and destruction in war by taking the form of explosives, and yet, in the same transformation could work mines, cut roadways and prepare the soil for agriculture; then, as though these achievements were not sufficient, could provide the motion-picture film; could give us the innumerable articles made from celluloid; could tour the roads in automobile tires, wheels, bodies, tops and seats and could furnish markers for the roads; could fly the air in airplane wings; could cover furniture and bind books as artificial leather; could help to extinguish fires in the form of fire hose; could be used for waterproofing tunnels; could be spun into the appearance of silk under the name of "rayon" and even could take the form of varnish and lacquers—yet all these things are accomplished by Cotton through a great variety of ingenious processes utilizing the fibre alone.

Even this astonishing showing is far from exhausting the list of human services contributed by the great staple. The fibre cannot be employed until separated from the clinging seeds, and these seeds, once considered as virtually waste material, save for the small proportion reserved for planting, are now realized to be a storehouse of wealth—even in themselves the foundation for large industries.

Crushed in mills they yield a rich oil which is the basis for more than one widely-advertised cooking oil and which has no small employment for use in making salads and in the manufacture of soaps. In addition, the solid residue left by the crushing furnishes oil cake, valuable for cattle and poultry food or for use as fertilizer to go back into the fields and start the cycle over again.

In view of these versatile values, it is not astonishing that cotton should have acquired such a tremendous influence over human affairs that the title "King Cotton" is hardly exaggeration. Cotton's effect upon industry, commerce, finance and politics has been very great. The necessity for manual labor adapted to work in the cotton fields under a Southern sun was one of the principal factors in the expansion of slavery which led to the Civil War. The need of Lancashire spinners for Southern cotton produced dangerously strained relations between England and the North during that struggle. Cotton has been a spur to England's colonial policy, and the development of cotton fields in Egypt, Sudan, Mesopotamia, Australia and elsewhere, in addition to the extensive cotton raising of India, has been a constant British purpose.

And so, during centuries of time and from layette to shroud, man has been surrounded by cotton to such a degree that the romantic and dramatic features in the history of the great staple are of natural consequence.

Since long before the time when Alexander's soldiers told of the "vegetable sheep" which they had seen in India, it has shared with wool, flax and silk the duty of providing textiles for the race, and today is more largely used throughout the world than are all three combined. Yet, in a peculiar degree, it has become American. It is a magnificent resource of the United States and the cause of a more or less reluctant tribute from other lands wherein many great textile plants are dependent for their very existence upon an uninterrupted supply of American raw cotton.

Cotton—King or Commoner?

For this reason, the staple has been recognized as the largest item in our exports during more than one hundred years, and has brought more gold to the United States than can be credited to any other resource.

Taken all in all, there are few subjects more interesting, few subjects of more practical and constant importance to the average American even though he may live far from the plantation, than that of the vegetable Proteus, Cotton.

Production Record of Chevrolet Car for January Broken

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 14.—All previous January production records were shattered here last month by the Chevrolet Motor Company when the total output for the thirty-day period reached 91,584 units, W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager, announced today.

This figure topped by nearly 20,000 units the 73,676 cars and trucks produced in January 1927, and more than doubled the output for the corresponding month in 1926 when only 46,437 units were manufactured.

As a result of this tremendous volume, production in January was exceeded by that of only four other months in the entire history of the company. Every indication points to new Chevrolet records in the coming months of 1928, Mr. Knudsen said.

The tentative production schedule for February is 112,475 units, as against 85,000 units last February, while actual production for the month this year is certain to exceed the tentative schedule by a comfortable margin, Mr. Knudsen said. Tentative plans for March call for the building of more than 127,000 units, which will establish a new all-time monthly record for the manufacture of gear shift cars, according to Mr. Knudsen.

This huge volume has been made possible by the enormous sales gains registered since the introduction of the "Bigger and Better" Chevrolet on January 1. R. H. Grant, vice-president of the company in charge of sales stated that more than 125,000 units were sold for immediate delivery at retail in the United States to date.

Another high record was set during the Chicago Automobile Show, ended February 4, when more Chevrolets were sold during the show week than any other make of car at this or any other automobile show.

Chevrolet officials were unanimous in the opinion that the company's performance last year, when it built and sold a million units to become the world's largest automobile manufacturer, would be substantially expanded this year.

"I am just as confident of selling a million cars this year as if I had them sold right now," Mr. Grant said at a recent dealer meeting.

To achieve this record volume the seven great assembly plants strung across the continent are on peak production schedules in answer to calls from the 45 Chevrolet one headquarters for ample cars to assure prompt delivery to the public. Another assembly plant, with a production capacity of 350 ends a day, will get into full swing within a few weeks at Atlanta, Ga., to augment the facilities of the other factories now running to capacity.

A measure of how enthusiastically the new car was received by the public is shown by the fact that the January production schedule had to be stepped up on six different occasions to keep the manufacturing volume on an even basis with rapidly piling up orders. The first tentative figure for the month was set on Nov. 17 and called for the building of 72,058 units.

Five hundred more units were added to this figure on December 1 and on January 5, after factory officials saw the measure of enthusiasm the new car was commanding 10,000 additional units were ordered built. On January 9 this figure was stepped up another thousand units, and since that date two general orders went out to assembly plants to over-run for a total of 8,000 more cars and trucks.

Finished cars are leaving the factories with all possible dispatch that dealers in all quarters of the country may have an ample supply to make prompt delivery on all models. In addition, the seventeen overseas plants operated by General Motors Export are humming along at a record clip to supply the foreign market with "Bigger and Better" line.

STREET DEPARTMENT

Drive On Cobblestones At 40 Miles Per Hour

This challenge is made by Dodge Brothers who recently brought their new Victory Six to the light of day. Ordinarily the challenge would be in the line of unrealistic ambitions, but with the technical originality displayed in the construction of this new model, almost anything is possible.

Two radical new principles of construction have been employed. These are particularly interesting in that they put into practice the theoretical opinions recently propounded by the leading engineers and physicists of the country who responded to the questions of Percival White, leading engineer, who has just completed a symposium of automotive needs and trends.

The first new principle to be found in the Victory Six is the single unit construction of body and chassis. This eliminates body sills and brings the car two inches nearer the ground, with corresponding lowered center of gravity. It eliminates 330 parts and strengthens both sections by making them act together in mutually flexing and mutually supporting what heretofore were jarring stresses and strains. This step insures quiet and smoothness beyond anything in the past.

The second principle is a body construction. Double steel walls, battleship type, are used throughout. This insures complete rigidity and double protection. There are only eight major parts in the entire body. And these are so welded together that there is not a chance for even a single squeak.

The car, owing to simplification is lightened 175 pounds. It will make 21 miles to the gallon and 65 miles per hour.

Cut Worm Control

Our own observations indicate that a general infestation by cut worms is not to be expected this season advises R. R. Reppert, Entomologist Extension Service, A. and M. College. The scarcity of reports reaching us seems to bear us out in this belief. However, no year passes but some small section at least experiences considerable damage from them and we think it wise to pass out information on their control.

Cut worms hatch in late fall from eggs laid by the last brood of moths. These little worms feed upon grass and weeds that are present at that time, continuing their feeding on such vegetation as withstands the colder weather during the winter. On the occasion of freezing weather they burrow into the ground below the frost line to reappear when the temperature moderates.

Since they must feed intermittently during the winter, the most practical measures of control consist in breaking up the soil in late fall or early winter, and following this at intervals by harrowing or disking to keep down all weed and grass growth. This procedure starves them before cultivated crops appear in the spring. Fields thus treated during the present winter will experience a minimum of damage this spring.

Where clean-up measures, such as are suggested, have been neglected, not a great deal of relief can be expected from their application at this time. In this case relief from damage, if damage occurs, will have to be sought in the use of poison bran mash. This is practically 100 per cent effective, but must be used as soon as damage becomes evident. The mash is made after the following formula:

Paris green or white arsenic, 1-lb.
Coarse wheat bran, 20-lbs.
Lemons finely ground in a meat chopper (juice included) 6 fruit.
Cane or sorghum molasses, 2 quarts.
Water sufficient to make a moist mash that will not be sloppy.

The poison and bran are mixed together thoroughly while dry. The liquid materials, including about two gallons of water, are thoroughly mixed and then added to the bran mixture by hand so that every particle of bran is moist. Additions of water are made until a mash is obtained as wet as possible and still so that it readily falls apart when being distributed.

Cut worms remain hidden during the day and feed at night. They are best attracted to the poison mash when it is moist, consequently applications should be made in the late afternoon. For the protection of cotton and field crops drilled in rows, it should be distributed in a thin line along the row, the cotton planter often being utilized for this purpose.

A thin line mash can also be used for garden crops in rows. If the garden or field crops are planted in hills, it will often be best to distribute the poison mash at the base of the plants, about one-fourth teaspoonful being used to each hill.

and contests furnished diversion. The lovers contest was very much enjoyed. The names of a number of Biblical and historical lovers were placed in a basket and the guests were asked to match them. Fortunes were told by a large heart full of tiny hearts and the arrow in the center stopped on these hearts that had fortunes on the back. The hostess at a late hour served a salad plate containing molded vegetable salad, chicken sandwiches, cake in heart-shape and spiced tea. Guests for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. DEEP IMPRESS LEFT BY LINCOLN UNEQUALED

GREAT EMANCIPATOR GROWS IN ESTIMATION OF THE PEOPLE

The centenary of Abraham Lincoln's birth was celebrated on February 12, 1909, with a neven deeper interest than such events usually arouse in a nation. Since then the Lincoln legend has grown. Memories to the Great Emancipator have multiplied. Each succeeding anniversary of his birth has been marked by what has come to be the usual impressive and nationwide observance.

Abraham Lincoln has been dead for nearly sixty-three years. Few who remember him remain alive. The issues he raised have long since passed. In many ways the thought and the very feelings of the nation have changed, and yet no figure in its history has ever so completely captured and held its imagination as has this sorrowful son of the frontier.

Here was a man who came of a wandering and illiterate, sometimes shiftless and always shifting and foot-loose stock. They knew little of books. He had a little schooling. It was a family of 'pore folks' in a new and 'pore' country.

In that 'half-faced camp' in the Indiana woods his mother taught him his 'letters' from the old 'blue-back speller' of American tradition. By the firelight he spelled out sentences from the statutes of Indiana.

Lincoln's 'Library'

Somehow in that, new raw country the 'Arabian Nights' came into his hands. He read the Bible. Shakespeare, 'Aesop's Fables' and 'Pilgrim's Progress.' He knew the 'Life of Washington,' by old Parson Weems. He dipped a quill pen made from the turkey buzzard's wing feather in a home-made ink compounded of roots of the blackberry briar and coppers. He wrote with the tip of a burnt stick or a dead coal from the fireplace on a fresh-split clapboard.

One book had a profound influence upon him and possible upon American political history. The Lincoln family were Democrats. He read in his boyhood "The Speeches of Henry Clay," stiff with the strong and pungent Whig doctrines of a century ago.

Clay became to Lincoln 'the beau ideal of a statesman.' When Lincoln entered Illinois politics in 1832 he was a Whig. The torch of Clay had lighted a greater flame in the Sangamon valley but Clay, dying in 1852 with his life work of compromise doomed to ruin, did not live to see the glory of this new fire.

Great by Instinct

Out of the raw, rough and ready school of frontier politics and frontier law Lincoln somehow brought the power and experience needed for the nation's greatest emergency. And as the years revealed, he brought something greater. The word humanity fails to describe it.

It included a deep understanding, a great generosity and an utter absence of malice, resentment and vindictiveness. Somewhere he found a tract no trained diplomat and no gentleman born to the purple ever excelled. He owned a tested strength tried as by fire and as sure as steel. There was in him also a strange and almost indescribable instinct for the right.

When he conquered, it was by the power of truth. That may be why no other American statesman has left so deep an impress upon the thought and the imagination of the world. There is no more romantic figure in the annals of statecraft than this tall and strangely sorrowful, sometimes humorous and always burdened, child of the clearings and the prairies.

Dignity and honesty, strength and generosity, charity and understanding, were the hammers under which he welded a broken nation. Such qualities are always needed in public life. The man who has them is a statesman. Lacking them he can never rise to greatness.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Noted Judge Dies At Calvert Monday

Messrs J. M. Ralston, E. A. Wallace, Roy Baskin and Judge John Watson attended funeral and burial of Judge W. G. Taliaferro at Calvert yesterday afternoon. Judge Taliaferro was judge of the 20th Judicial District then composed of Milam, Robertson and Brazos County several years having succeeded Judge John Henderson when the latter went upon the Court of Criminal Appeals. Judge Taliaferro was an appointee of Governor Hogg. He was succeeded by Judge J. C. Scott. The bar of Cameron sent a beautiful floral offering a testimony of its appreciation and esteem of the deceased.

What constitutes the bulwark of our liberty and independence? It is not our frowning battlements, our bristling sea-coasts, our army and our navy. Our reliance is in the love of liberty which God has planted in us. Our defense is in the spirit which prized liberty as the heritage of all men in all lands everywhere. Destroy this spirit and you have planted the seeds of despotism at your own doors.—Lincoln.

THE FOUR SQUARE COMMUNITY PLAN TO BE PRESENTED HERE

Mr. H. L. Gantz, field editor of Farm and Ranch, will be in Milam County during the week beginning February 20th, and teachers and trustees are being notified of meetings to be held at the various points in the county on dates below mentioned. Mr. Gantz is an experienced school man and a gentleman who has been an outstanding success as a county school superintendent of Comanche County. The Four Square Community Plan will be explained to the people of the rural communities and this will be an unusual opportunity for the advancement and co-ordination of home demonstration work, boys' clubs and school interests of this county. Education is no longer a matter of gathering only those facts which are contained in the adopted text books, but a well educated person today is a summing up of all the information gathered through news papers, clubs, conventions and all mediums and organizations existing for the full development of citizens of today.

It is not possible for Mr. Gantz to be in the county longer than one week and he can therefore not visit each school, but the points selected have been those that will be accessible from

Texas and Texans

By Will H. Mayes

Texas Empires

There was a time when Texas had a feeling of pride in being called the "Empire State." Texas development has reached the point when there are empires within empire and writers and speakers frequently speak of the empire of East Texas or West Texas or South Texas or North Texas. Lately we are beginning to hear of still further empire divisions, as the "Empire of the South Plains." Speaking of that section, W. A. Thomas, president of the Texas Association of Real Estate Boards, recently said in a speech at Lubbock: "This vast staked plains section is destined to be the seat of one of the greatest populaces in the entire South." Mr. Thomas thinks that the California and Florida "booms" have had their day, and that those states are suffering from the reaction due to high pressure real estate salesmanship.

Sounds Warning

Mr. Thomas, like many other Texans, fears that Texas may be inviting field for the grafters and promoters who have been operating to the detriment of California and Florida, since it is well known that prosperity of a kind that Texas is now enjoying always attracts unethical real estate dealers. He said: "A veritable empire awaits them, and they are almost ready to come in and ply their illegal and unethical tactics, fleecing the property owners and citizens of their fortunes." To avoid this, he urges a thorough organization and co-operation on the part of responsible real estate dealers of the State.

Would Stop Tenancy

From 1920 to 1925 there was an increase of 17 per cent in the number of farms in Texas operated by tenants, and in 1925, 60.4 per cent of the Texas farmers were tenants. All agree that this is not best for agriculture or for the centers that depend largely upon farming. The happiest and most prosperous people are homeowners. Landlords recognize this, and most of them would sell their farms if they could, but so long as tenants rely upon cotton as the single farm crop they will likely never make enough financial headway to become landowners. The hope for a change in conditions rests in the encouragement by landlords, bakers and merchants of diversification on tenant farms, with dairying, poultry and livestock given especial attention.

Conditions Improving

There are indications all over Texas that farming methods are changing for the better. For instance, three items in one column of a Sunday paper tell of new interests in three separate places. From Clarendon, it is seen that there are more orders being received for baby chicks than ever before and that more dairy cattle are being brought into Donley County than at any time in its history, there being now three times more milk cows than a year ago. At Plainview farmers are putting in large numbers of feed-grinding mills and are using home-ground feed instead of the kind formerly shipped in. At Lamesa 75 head of registered dairy cattle and the same number of registered hogs have been brought in during the past year, there now being 5,000 high grade Jersey cows in Dawson County. Both Clarendon and Lamesa report need for creameries and that the need will likely soon be supplied.

Creameries Being Built

When between 2,000 and 3,000 people attend the opening of a new industry, the people are clearly interested. That number were at the opening of a new creamery at Ballinger recently and 1,000 went to the courthouse to listen to an address on dairying and the creamery industry. At Center, $15,000 in stock in a $40,000 creamery was subscribed by the citizens in about two hours after a proposition to build was submitted to the people. Ballinger and Center are about 400 miles apart, but interest in dairying is becoming as strong in one part of the State as another.

Profits From Cows

Here is why Center was so quick to subscribe the money necessary to secure a ready market for dairy products. Some 60 miles from there, at Longview, Joe Goodjoan owns four cows. His feed bill for the cows last year was $414.55. He sold milk and butter produced by those cows to the amount of $1,479.90. The Center people may not have known about Goodjoan's returns from his cows, but they knew something of the profits that the farmers have been realizing from milk they have been shipping to Shreveport.

Sectional Co-operation

The nine counties of Wilbarger, Foard, Hardeman, Cottle, Motley, Childress, Donley Hall and Collingsworth in North Texas, realizing that they have general characteristics of a like kind, and that there are many distinct advantages to be obtained through their cooperative efforts as a unit, have formed the "Pease-Red River Valley Association," to advertise their section and to work together in whatever ways may be suggested from time to time for their mutual good. Like organizations of counties having common interests are being created in many parts of the State, usually through the efforts of the Chambers of Commerce and the County Farm and Home Demonstration agents of the several counties.

Dan Crownover's Crown

Dan Crownover lives in Burnet County and is blind. He doesn't spend his time in self pity, though he has been blind since he was 20 years old. When he graduated from the state school for the blind at Austin in 1900 he became a farmer and broom-maker. He began experimenting at improving the native pecan trees on his Colorado river farm. He now has nearly 400 acres in pecan orchards that produce an average annual income that about equals the value of ordinary Colorado river lands. He lives in a two story eight room modern house on his place, and, with his blind brother, operates a successful broom factory. He has set an example in the pecan industry that many of his neighbors are following. He has proved that where there is the will almost any handicap may be overcome.

Musical Development

If the Rio Grande Valley Bandmasters' Association accomplishes what it has started, that section of the State will become famous for its interest in music. The association has set for its goal the organization of a band in every school in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, and in line with that effort has recently organized bands at San Juan, Pharr, Santa Rosa and Weslco. In this undertaking the Valley band leaders have set a fine example for others to follow.

Hondo Against Incorporating

Hondo recently voted 210 to 85 against incorporating the thirty, law-abiding little Medina County city. It has been non-incorporated for 30 years, has up to date waterworks, electric lights, natural gas and good streets, and the precinct has not had a constable for years.

Watch The Kidneys After Winter's Colds.

COLDS and grip are hard on the kidneys. When the kidneys slow up, impurities remain in the blood and are apt to make one tired and achy with headaches, dizziness and often nagging backache. A common warning is scanty or burning secretions.

Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, increase the secretion of the kidneys and aid in the elimination of waste impurities. Are endorsed by users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

Maximum Acceleration and no flooding

Every Texaco pump now dispenses the new and better Texaco Gasoline.

THE noticeably livelier acceleration you get with the new Texaco Gasoline is the immediate evidence of its better engine work.

Texaco accelerates to the maximum without flooding, and this capacity for acceleration is an indication of its other qualities—its quicker start, improved mileage with a leaner carburetor setting, increased power for hill work, smoother engine operation, freedom from carbon and fouled spark plugs, and reduced crankcase dilution.

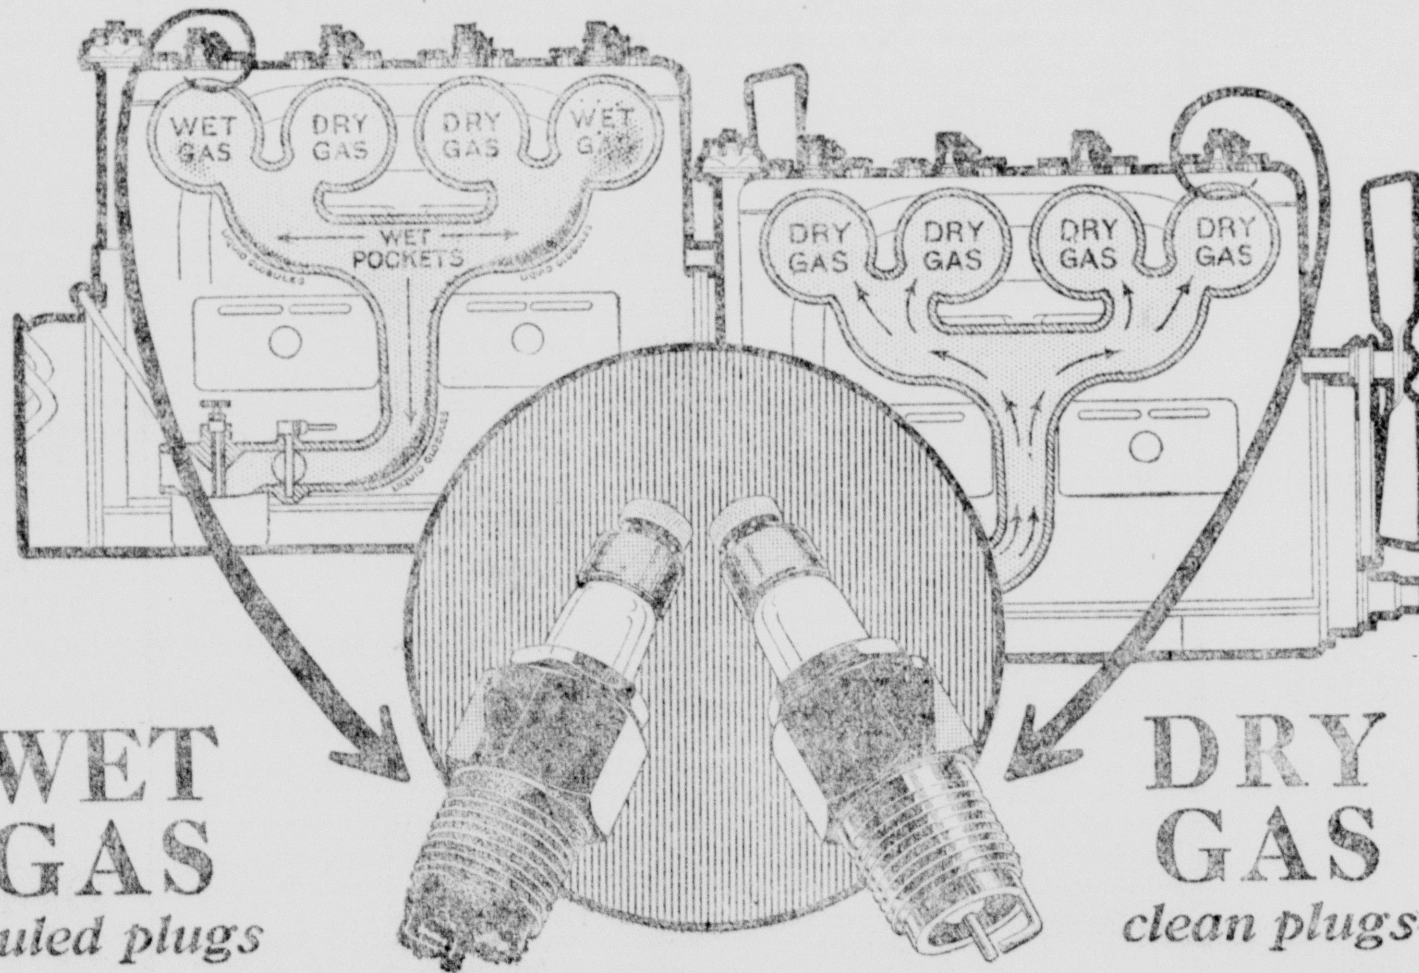

Carburetor adjustment is not essential—you will get better results in any event, but still better with the lean mixture that the new and better Texaco makes possible.

The new Texaco, due to its low boiling point and its better balanced distillation range, vaporizes completely at a lower temperature and goes into the cylinders as a dry gas—the same in every cylinder. Texaco vaporizes where other gasolines only atomize.

The new and better Texaco contains no added chemicals. It needs none. Its anti-knock quality is obtained without the addition of dopes or poison. Every Texaco pump provides it. Texaco is always uniform.

A NEW and BETTER TEXACO GASOLINE

fouled plugs

DRY GAS
clean plugs

Why is it that the end plugs are so often fouled?

A wet gas as it would appear in the manifold, is a mixture of gasoline vapor with minute globules of liquid gasoline which form a wet film at the manifold bends and enrich certain cylinders at the expense of others.

A dry gas, the new Texaco, vaporizes at a lower temperature than others on the market and forms a perfect dry motor fuel which distributes evenly and gives a smooth flow of power to every cylinder.

THE end cylinders of the average motor car with the average gasoline receive too rich a mixture.

It is due to wet gas. Liquid drops of gasoline separate from the mixture at every bend of the manifold and concentrate at the end cylinders. That is why the spark plugs of the end cylinders are fouled more frequently than the others. It is the visible evidence of a wet gas.

Wet gas means imperfect combustion, a loss of power, an excess of deadly carbon monoxide in the exhaust gases and free carbon in the cylinders.

The new Texaco forms a dry gas in the manifold. It frees your motor from the evils of end-cylinder enrichment and provides an even flow of fuel and power to every cylinder.

der. Engineers have long tried to produce this ideal gasoline. The Texas Company with its new Holmes-Manley process has succeeded.

The results:—Better combustion and more power. Maximum acceleration without flooding. A quicker start. Less crankcase dilution and no fouling of spark plugs.

Carburetor adjustment is not essential—you will get better results in any event, but still better with the lean mixture that the new and better Texaco makes possible.

And you will notice the gain in mileage, the better hill work and freedom from knocking.

The new Texaco has exceptional anti-knock qualities—attained without the addition of dopes or poisons.
